

List of Proposed Operations Specifications

You should decide early in the process which Operations Specifications will likely be issued by the FAA for your intended scope of operations. Some Operations Specifications provide additional instructions and procedures not addressed in Title 14 CFR, Part 121. These additional instructions and procedures are described in FAA Order 8900.1 Volume 3, Chapter 18, Section 1 and you may be required to incorporate these additional instructions or procedures into your system documentation. For additional instructions and procedures see, <http://www.opspeccs.com>.