

13E1 FAA Ratings by Employees

Description

The FAA is rated in the top 25 percent of places to work in the federal government by employees. FY13 Target: 75%

Commentary (09/2013)

OPM was expected to release publicly the government-wide 2013 FedView results by the end of October 2013. However, the release of the government FedView results has been delayed because of the shutdown. OPM is expected to provide a new release date for results soon. The Partnership for Public Service's Best Places to Work (BPTW) rankings use government-wide Fedview data. Once the 2013 Fedview data file is provided by OPM to the Partnership for Public Service, the rankings of government agencies on the BPTW Index will be calculated and FAA's ranking will be known. Currently, this FAA metric is incomplete because data have not been released that are required to determine the rankings.
