SAFETY ALERT

Date: September 17, 2020
To: Users of the Aeronautical Data Delivery Service (ADDS) Website
From: Aeronautical Information Services
Subject: Update to Designated Points PENDING Dataset (Effective 9/10/2020)

Aeronautical Data Delivery Service – Designated Points PENDING Data

This notice serves to alert users of the ADDS (Aeronautical Data Delivery Service) website that the Designated Points PENDING dataset for the effective date 9/10/2020 has been republished to correct a data discrepancy that was found after the initial publication.

A duplicate feature was discovered in the Designated Point PENDING dataset Effective 9/10/2020. Ident of feature is FILLI. This duplicate feature may cause processing issues for users, so the extra copy was removed from the dataset.

ACTION: Users who downloaded this data set prior to 9/16/2020 and have not switched to using the active data set should re-download the data. The non-pending dataset, published on 9/10/2020 did not have this issue. There would be no action for users who access this dataset via API services.
