Subject: Cancellation of FAA Order 3940.1, First Aid Kits in Terminal Enroute and Flight Service Stations–Air Traffic Control Facilities

The EOSH Services Group requests concurrence for the cancellation of FAA Order 3940.1, “First Aid Kits in Terminal Enroute and Flight Service Stations–Air Traffic Control Facilities,” dated June 22, 1973.

The subject order provides for first aid treatment of minor injuries and palliative treatment of minor gastric upsets by authorizing the purchase of first aid kits and antacids. The information contained in this order is no longer current due to organizational and regulatory changes.

Guidelines for the contents and maintenance of first aid kits in FAA facilities were distributed to key managers within the Air Traffic Organization in the attached April 10, 2017 memorandum. The attached requirements were based on the latest Professional Aviation Safety Specialists (PASS) and National Air Traffic Controllers Association (NATCA) bargaining unit agreements and Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) regulations regarding First Aid Supplies contained in 29 CFR 1910.151.

We have determined that there is no risk, no hazard change, and no impact on the safety of the National Airspace System with the cancellation of Order 3940.1. Therefore, no formal safety risk analysis will be performed. All documentation associated with this cancellation will be maintained as a permanent case file for future reference.

Please validate on the appropriate line below that you either accept or do not accept the cancellation of FAA Order 3940.1.
