

FAA National Wildlife Strike Database

- CURRENT THROUGH AUG 31 2008 (CHART INCLUDES STRIKE DATA FROM U.S. CIVIL AIRCRAFT, U.S. MILITARY, AND CANADIAN AIRCRAFT)
- Substantial Strike Defined as: Damage or structural failure adversely affects an aircraft's structural integrity, performance, or flight characteristics. The damage normally requires major repairs or the replacement of the entire affected component. Bent fairings or cowlings; small dents; skin punctures; damage to wing tips, antenna, tires or brakes, or engine blade damage not requiring blade replacement are specifically excluded.