

Documents of Purchase, Contracts, and Leases

This attachment should provide evidence that you have the facilities and services necessary to conduct the type of operation proposed. This evidence may be in the form of proof of formal purchases, leases, or contractual arrangements. These documents should provide evidence that you are, in good faith, committed to making arrangements for supporting facilities and services as necessary for the proposed operation. Examples of the types of facilities and services that you should address in these documents, contracts, or leases include the following:

- Station facilities and services
- Weather and Notices to Airmen (NOTAM) gathering facilities and services
- Communications facilities and service
- Maintenance facilities and service
- Aeronautical charts and related publications
- Airport analysis and obstruction data
- Contract training or facilities
