

Communication: (description of communications equipment, ATC, range control, GCS, Operators/observers etc.)

An assigned Mission Commander maintains oversight for the operation. This system incorporates two GCS with an ability of transferring control from one to the other. For launch/recoveries, an additional UA operator is located at the PGCS for redundancy. Radio contact is continuously maintained with ground observers and with Range Control during missions.