

Emergency Procedures:

The Hunter Unmanned Aircraft System is operated utilizing an approved US Army Technical Operator's Manual and Checklist, which delineate emergency procedure responses and pilots can implement emergency procedures in accordance with same. In addition, the systems are also equipped with an alternate means of recovery using an emergency recovery parachute system which can be deployed to recover the UAS in a safe area designated by the UAS operator.