

Lost Communications:

Utilize redundant communications located in the Ground Control Station (military communications radios compatible with air traffic controlling agencies, landline, cell phone, backup system ground control station radios) to communicate with ATC.