

Lost Link/Mission Procedures

Loss of the RC link while flying in RC mode will engage the system failsafe feature which is set to reduce throttle to idle and move the aerodynamic controls to neutral positions.

Loss of the primary 900 MHz telemetry link will cause the aircraft to return to and circle the home waypoint which is the takeoff/landing location. The secondary 421.5 MHz telemetry link can then be used to land the aircraft.