

Visual Observation

The primary safety observer is the Range Safety Officer (RSO) who stands next to the pilot. Other ground-based observers will be used to maintain continuous visual contact with the UAS and look for other aircraft and hazards. All observers will maintain radio contact with the RSO.