

Ground Observer

The flight and operations area is such that two primary observation locations will be used.

The observers are in contact with the instructor pilot (IP) via FRS radios. They are trained via an observer training lesson to observe the vehicle and scan their assigned airspace for other aircraft. They are also trained in how to report other aircraft in the area to the IP.