

ORBITER Launch System

The launcher component is a lightweight aluminum folding structure, which consists of the following components:

- Main rail – two part attached by means of a safety pin
- Two legs – attached to the main rail
- Back base – attached to the main rail by means of two safety pins

