Appendix D Applicable Regulations by Resource Area

D.1 Introduction

This appendix provides descriptions of the statutes, regulations, executive orders, and other requirements applicable to analysis for each resource area discussed in this Environmental Impact Statement where associated requirements are not detailed in the respective resource area.

D.2 Noise and Noise-Compatible Land Use

Most noise-related statutes, executive orders, and regulations are related to airport operations, which are not applicable to this Proposed Action. Table D.2-1 identifies those noise-related statutes, executive orders, and regulations applicable to this Proposed Action.

D.6 Visual Effects

Some visual resources are protected under Federal, state, or local regulations. Protected visual resources may include, but are not limited to (FAA, 2023):

- Federal, state, or local scenic roadways/byways
- Wild and Scenic Rivers

- National Scenic Areas
- Scenic easements
- Trails protected under the National Trails System Act or similar state or local regulations
- Biological resources
- Parks, recreation areas, and wildlife/waterfowl refuges
- Historic properties
- Features protected under other Federal, state, or local regulations

Although there are no Federal special purpose laws or requirements specific to light emissions and visual effects, there are special purpose laws and requirements that may be relevant. In addition to NEPA, laws protecting resources that may be affected by visual effects include Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act, Section 4(f) of the United States (U.S.) Department of Transportation Act, the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act, the Coastal Zone Management Act, and state and regional coastal protection acts. Visual resources are also protected and managed on Federal resource lands, such as under U.S. Forest Service Resource Management Plans and the Bureau of Land Management Visual Resource Management System (FAA, 2023).

There are specific ordinances, codes, and instructions developed by state and local entities to manage light pollution. The State of Florida implemented Section 161.163, Florida Statutes, which requires the Florida Department of Environmental Protection to establish guidelines for local government regulations that control beachfront lighting to protect hatching sea turtles. Brevard County, and Federal and municipal entities therein, have created the following lighting codes (Table D.6-1):

Table D.6-1 identifies and describes local lighting codes applicable to visual resources analysis.

D.7 Department of Transportation Act, Section 4(f)

The regulation known as Section 4(f) was originally established in the U.S. Department of Transportation Act of 1966 (49 United States Code §1653(f) and later recodified as 49 United States Code §303). In 2005, Congress enacted legislation that required the Department of Transportation to issue additional regulations that clarify Section 4(f) standards and procedures (FHWA, 2012). These new regulations were finalized in March 2008 (23 Code of Federal Regulations [CFR] Part 774).

To be protected under Section 4(f), public parks, recreation facilities, and wildlife or waterfowl refuges must be considered significant (FHWA, 2012). Pursuant to 23 CFR §771.135(c), Section 4(f) resources are presumed to be significant unless the official having jurisdiction over the site concludes that the entire site is not significant. Historic sites qualifying for Section 4(f) protection must be officially listed on or eligible for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) or contribute to a historic district that is eligible for or listed on the NRHP. Archeological sites qualifying for Section 4(f) protection must be officially listed on or eligible for the NRHP and warrant preservation in place. Section 4(f) does not typically apply if the archeological resource is important chiefly because of what can be learned by data recovery (FAA, 2023).

A use of properties protected under Section 4(f) occurs under either of the following conditions (23 CFR §771.135(p)).

- Land from a qualifying Section 4(f) property is acquired and permanently incorporated into a transportation facility.
- There is a temporary occupancy of Section 4(f) land during construction of the transportation facility that is considered adverse to the preservationist purposes of the Section 4(f) statute.

Table D.7-1 identifies and describes the statutes and regulations related to Section 4(f) properties.
